

ALEXANDER TOWER BERLIN 2023 - In the metropolitan development of Alexanderplatz Berlin, the Alexander Tower will be the first high-rise building on the square. The 150-meter high skyscraper has a volume of 42,000 square meters of floor space with 35 floors above ground and four below ground, space for shopping, a cinema, fitness area and offices, as well as 377 condominiums and penthouse apartments. The design draws on the tradition of metropolitan modernism at Alexanderplatz. The twin-tower cluster is twisted in height references to the city in four stages. The high-rise segments are urban building blocks taken to scale from the surroundings, which are layered on top of each other via gridded facades with continuous facade lines. The spatial entanglement results in a complex sculptural effect in all directions of the city.

Alexander Tower is under construction and will be completed in 2023.
